Kahu Kalani's Konnections

Can you believe we are entering the month of October? Children will soon be celebrating the completion of their first quarter of school and enjoying fall break. The weather will shift from the warmth of summer to the coolness of winter. Trees will lose their leaves, and the rainy season will soon be here.

Just as trees let go of their leaves, maybe we should let October remind us of letting go of those things that no longer serve us. Whether it is past feelings toward someone or practices that hinder us, we need to release it all.

Scripture implores us to do this...

"Bearing with one another, and forgiving one another, if anyone has a complaint against another; even as Christ forgave you, so you also must do."- Colossians 3:13

"Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation; old things have passed away; behold, all things have become new."- 2 Corinthians 5:17

October also marks the fall harvest, giving us a sense of gratitude. Farming communities gather to celebrate the fruits of their labor which we all enjoy (think anything pumpkin spice). Let that remind us as well of our own personal growth and the fruit that comes from that.

"I am the vine; you are the branches. If you remain in me and I in you, you will bear much fruit; apart from me you can do nothing."- John 15:5

"But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, forbearance, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. Against such things there is no law."- Galatians 5:22-23

As we enter October, may the changing season invite us to release old burdens, practice forgiveness, and embrace the new life Christ offers. With grateful hearts, let us recognize the growth God is cultivating within us and seek to bear the good fruit of the Spirit in all that we do.

In this with you,
Kahu Kalani

A Journey of Faith, Family, and Gratitude

Aloha Families and Friends of 'Iao UCC,

It's been a rough few months for our 'Ohana. Where do I even begin? I've started writing this so many times, and every time I do, I get emotional. I honestly don't know if I'll ever be able to fully put into words what these past several weeks have meant to our family.

On August 19th, my sister Cindy and I accompanied our Mom to Straub on O'ahu for what we thought would be a quick overnight trip for an angiogram. We packed for one night, fully expecting to return home to Maui the next day. Little did we know that our lives were about to change.

After Mom's angiogram, we learned that she had more than 90% blockage in all of her arteries and needed open-heart surgery.

I will never forget hearing those words. How did we go from expecting to go home the next day to being told our Mommy needed open-heart surgery?

No matter how old you are, your mom is still your mom. Cindy and I tried our best to stay strong for her and for each other, but underneath it all, we were two daughters who were terrified of losing our Mommy.

And that was when our faith became more important than ever!

We quickly realized that there were things we simply could not control. We couldn't fix Mom's heart, perform the surgery, or promise each other that everything would be okay. All we could do was pray, trust, and give it to God.

And that is exactly what we did.

We gave Mom to God. We gave our fears to God. We gave the surgery, doctors, and nurses to God. And we prayed for the strength to face whatever came next.

It wasn't always easy. There were tears, sleepless nights, moments of fear, and so many unanswered questions. But whenever the worry became overwhelming, we reminded ourselves that our Mom was in God's hands.

Sometimes faith isn't about not being afraid. Sometimes it's being afraid and choosing to trust God anyway. It's saying, "Lord, I don't understand why this is happening or what tomorrow will bring, but I trust YOU."

Thankfully, our Mom made it through her quadruple bypass surgery, and today our hearts are filled with more gratitude than words could ever express!

We are grateful that her blockages were discovered before it was too late. Grateful for the incredible doctors, nurses, surgeons, and medical team who cared for her. And most of all, grateful to God for carrying our Mom through surgery and carrying Cindy and me when we felt like we couldn't carry ourselves.

God was there in the waiting, in our tears, in our prayers, and in every moment of uncertainty. Even when we couldn't see what was happening behind those operating room doors, we trusted that He was watching over our Mommy.

This experience has reminded us that giving something to God doesn't mean the fear disappears. It means knowing that even in our most difficult moments, we are never walking alone.

We also want to thank my wife Jaime, our family, our dear friends, and our wonderful 'lao UCC 'ohana for surrounding us with so much love and prayer. Every message, phone call, prayer, and act of kindness meant more than you will ever know.

There were days when Cindy and I were exhausted, emotional, homesick, and completely overwhelmed. Knowing that so many people were praying for our Mom and our family gave us strength when we needed it most. When we were too tired or scared to find the words to pray ourselves, we knew others were praying for us.

Mahalo nui loa for being there for our family and reminding us what a blessing it is to be surrounded by such a loving and caring community. ❤️

Mom still has a journey of healing ahead of her. Recovery from something this big doesn't happen overnight, but she is getting stronger one day at a time! Cindy and I will continue to be right beside her, cheering her on, helping her, loving her, and probably reminding her to behave when she tries to do too much... LOL!

Through it all, we will continue to pray, have faith, and trust God with every step of her recovery.

This journey has also reminded us how precious life truly is and how quickly everything can change. The ordinary moments we sometimes take for granted—a hug, a laugh, sharing a meal, talking story, or simply hearing our Mom's voice—have become some of our greatest blessings.

Mommy, you have shown us just how strong you truly are. You are our warrior, and Cindy and I are so incredibly proud of you! We still need you here for many, many more years. There are memories to make, stories to tell, holidays to celebrate, and so much more life for us to share together. ❤️

We went to O'ahu expecting to come home the next day. Instead, we experienced a journey that strengthened our faith, brought our family even closer, and gave us an entirely new appreciation for every precious heartbeat.

As we move forward, we will take things one day at a time, one step at a time, and one prayer at a time. And whenever the road feels too heavy, we will remember that we don't have to carry it alone. We will give it to God, again and again.

Our family is beyond grateful that our Mommy is still here with us, and we will never take that blessing for granted.

God is good. Faith gets us through. Prayer is powerful. Life is precious. Family is everything. And every heartbeat truly is a gift from God. 🙏❤️🙏

Mahalo nui loa from the bottom of our hearts for all your love, support, and prayers. May God continue to bless each and every one of you!

With Love and Aloha,

Shannon Ribao
Grateful Co-Moderator

Buildings and Grounds

Thank you, arigato, mahalo, kulo for all of you who are coming out on the 4th Saturday workdays. Your help is really needed and appreciated to keep our church and grounds in good condition. It's getting much older!

We finally got electrical power back in Endo Hall after being without it for almost 4 weeks. No lights for all that time was a challenge. Power supply had to be brought in by extension cords from the Sanctuary and Kanda Hall to keep our computers going. On September 19 we finally got the power back! Ion Electric was hired to do the work, but the electrician needed a county permit and Hawaiian Electric help to get the permit process completed in order to do his job.

We are now in the process of fixing the broken sewer line in Endo Hall. Hopefully by the time you read this newsletter the old cast iron pipes will have been replaced and the sewer problem fixed.

Fujitomo Hall also needs a new air conditioner so our tenant can comfortably hold his music classes.

Due to new Food Bank rules Kanda Hall's Food Pantry storage will need an air conditioner to keep their food products at the proper temperature. An air conditioner in the kitchen area to keep our volunteer workers cool and comfortable. Thank you to them for all their hard work.

Due to Hurricane Nolo, the September workday was cancelled and rescheduled for October 3.

‘Īao Preschool

The summer break with Auntie Vanilla (what the kids called her since they have trouble saying her name) AKA Anela was a huge plus for the keiki of ‘Īao Preschool. The staff greatly appreciated her time here during the summer and her sweetness and patience with the children have not gone unnoticed. Even with families as the children went home and raved about “Auntie Vanilla”. Can’t wait for the next college break for Auntie Vanilla to return...cross your fingers for us!

In honor of Grandparents Day, we invited grandparents to come and have teatime snacks with the children. It was nice to see them enjoying these goodies with their grandkids and talking stories with others that they actually know outside of preschool.

We also went on our first walking excursion for this school year to the Wailuku Library for story time with Auntie Kathleen.

October 18 is Children’s Sunday. ‘Īao Preschool is invited to join us on this special Sunday. We will also have a blessing of the new mural that adorns our playground wall.

We always welcome volunteers to read stories to the keiki as they settle in for their naps after lunch. Call Auntie Fley, at 808-242-1995, to volunteer.

Justice and Witnessing

On September 3rd, the Justice and Witnessing Community held a third post card writing campaign to encourage people in Texas and Alaska to vote in the upcoming midterm elections. A total of 100 post cards were written in a single session! Mahalo plenty to those who wrote post cards!

Save the date! Maui Indivisible will be holding a “No Dictators” Protest on Saturday, October 17 at Queen Ka’ahumanu Center from 4 pm - 6 pm. We hope to see you there!

Learning Community

September was a crazy busy month. There was a fall kick off Sunday, September 6 when no children came, most thinking it was communion Sunday. Then on September 15, it was Communion Sunday along with Keiro No He luncheon/potluck, so no Sunday School.

Thus, Auntie Coreen planned and planned to be able to get 4 weeks of lessons into two. She is miraculous! Uncle Paul built a ping pong table for us to enjoy after our lessons.

On October 25th we will be having an "All Hallows' Eve" Party. The

Look at our acolytes in training!

teachers are working on making this a fun and meaningful time as we learn about All Saints

Day and how it turned into Halloween. We are open to your ideas and possible help as we take on this adventure. Talk to any of our community members- Youlida Yoruw, Shrue Sigrah, Linda Johannes, Caetlyn Johannes, Anela Awai, Coreen and Paul Lackey, and Dawna Krueger, chair.

Stewarding Community

Keiro no Hi

We celebrated five honorees on September 13 in worship and with a luncheon that followed in Kanda Hall. The 80-year-olds are Lynette Shiroma, Winford Ideue, Dale Yatsushiro and Lynette Yamashiro. Also included was Edna Hadley, 83 years, who joined last year. Please visit the Keiro no Hi website to learn more about them. To view this website, go to our church website (iaoucc.org) and find RESOURCES for Maui Residents. The link will be there. Each honoree has a webpage dedicated to them. The luncheon program included two Hawaiian songs by Kahu Dennis Barger's 'ukulele hui. Warren Orikasa served as the MC. Mahalo to Dale Schwarz and Jackie Murai for the table decorations and everyone for their side dishes or desserts. For a photo montage of the day, please see "All in the 'Ohana section.

Stewarding campaign kickoff for 2027 Envelopes with the Stewarding letter, Time and Talent and pledge forms were distributed to those in attendance on September 13. Others were mailed earlier. Please contact the office if you haven't received any of these items.

Deadlines:

- October 31 for the Time and Talent survey. Scan this QR code for T & T survey or click on this link- 2027 T&T Survey.
- November 30 for pledges. Pledge forms will be collected on November 8, Consecration Sunday.

In keeping with the theme “There Our Hearts Will Be”, heart-shaped paper fans will be given to those who submit their Time and Talent form. A heart-shaped enamel pin is a thank you gift for your pledge. It can be worn on your name tag. Let’s show our heartfelt support for the church’s budget and mission this way!

Our witnessing stewards for this year’s campaign are:

- October 25: Joyleen Phillip
- November 1: Cheryl Matsui
- November 8: Rev. John Hau’oli Tomoso

A luncheon will follow in Kanda Hall after the November 8 service. We will provide the main dishes and request that you share your favorite sides or desserts. Please mark your calendar for this important event.

Neighbors in Need Special Offering

October will be devoted to receiving the Neighbors in Need (NIN) offering that supports ministries of justice and compassion, with one-third of the offering given to the Council for American Indian Ministries and the remaining two-thirds supporting UCC justice ministries. Special envelopes designated for the NIN offering will be in the pews.

Sharing Our Time and Talents

Submitted by Jackie Murai

As people of God, the time and talents we offer are essential to building a community that reflects our shared faith and mission. Every one of us has something meaningful to contribute. Through our unique gifts, skills, and abilities, we help spread love, compassion, and the spirit of aloha within our church ‘ohana.

As we reflect on our Time and Talent and pledge sheets from our Stewarding Community, we invite you to consider the ways you share and contribute to our church’s mission. Your acts of service—large or small—help strengthen our ministries and deepen our connections with one another.

One beautiful example comes from June Uyetake, who shares her gift of crafting by creating handmade birthday cards. These thoughtful creations bring cheer and warm wishes to members and friends on their special day, reminding them that they are loved and remembered.

Mahalo to everyone who offers their time and talents. Your generosity helps our church thrive and continue its mission of welcome, compassion, and service.

Food Pantry

We recently passed our Food Bank inspection with only two minor corrections needed:

- Canned Goods Storage: Cases need to be raised from 2" to 6" off the floor. Dennis Hashiro is taking care of this.
- Pantry Thermometer: We need to add a thermometer to the pantry. We will either purchase one or get one through the Food Bank, as they currently have them on order.

Thank you everyone for bringing boxes. Please note that the Food Bank currently has a very limited supply of dry cereal, and we would especially appreciate donations of this item.

Our packing and distribution volunteers continue to be amazing, allowing our program to run smoothly as we serve 100 to over 150 families each week, with new sign-ups weekly. We especially want to recognize Darcean Phillip for learning the client sign-in process. Susan and Dawna greatly appreciate her help, as it allows for regular breaks and ensures coverage when one of them is away. She is a recent high school graduate yet has much experience with the Food Pantry. Here's her reflection on this kuleana..

I have been volunteering at the Food Pantry for the past three years. Recently, I had the opportunity to serve in an intake and registration role. My responsibilities included signing people in, recording where they lived, noting their ethnicity, and documenting the number of individuals in their household. It was rewarding to contribute in a different way beyond simply distributing food.

Volunteering at the Food Pantry has taught me the importance of helping those in need. It feels meaningful to know that my time and effort are making a difference in someone's life rather than staying home and doing nothing. Although volunteering can be tiring at first, over time you become accustomed to the work, and the challenges feel less significant. What matters most is being able to provide support to people who are struggling and ensuring they receive the assistance they need. Seeing the impact of that help makes the experience truly worthwhile.

Mahalo to Darcean and all of our volunteers. We welcome all who want to make a difference in the lives of others. No experience required, just open hearts and working hands.

Quick Food Pantry Numbers for August: 4,072 meals were served to 1,397 people (non-duplicated) over the five distribution days.

Shelter Dinner

ʻĪao UCC provides a scrumptious mushroom chicken dinner for the clients of Ka Hale A Ke Ola on the fifth Thursday of a month. The final two for this year are October 29 and December 31. Gail Ideue, and her band of helpful hands, prepare the main dish and steamed vegetables. You can kōkua by providing desserts that are individually portioned. Drop these off to Gail on the day of the dinner in Kanda Hall or to the church office. Mahalo for your kōkua!

Worshipping Community

Aloha and happy October! Looking back, September was full of special activities.

We bid a fond farewell during the September 20th worship service to our beloved Myriam Takamatsu who has moved to Tennessee to be closer to family. We, as a congregation, were able to bid her a fond farewell and extend a hearty blessing to her new beginning. Her new home, in the Clarendale at Indian Lake retirement community, will give her an abundance of activities that will keep her busy. According to son Richard, on a previous visit, she quickly made five friends who are anticipating her arrival. Myriam's new address is 195 Indian Lake Blvd, #4421, Hendersonville, TN 37075. A Hui Hou Myriam and God Bless!

September 27 was a moving and joyful occasion as we welcomed two little ones, Taytum Tanaka (parents Taylor and Atriel Tanaka) and Skylar Micky (parents Sueannelisa Nithan and Mavrik Micky), into our church community through baptism. We pray that they will be abundantly blessed with joy and health throughout their lives and that their lifelong journeys will be surrounded by the love and support of our church family.

There are many special Sundays coming up in October and beyond, and we're excited for what's ahead.

- October 4 is World Communion when we will share bread from various cultures. We'll have breads representing Hawai'i, Japan, the Philippines, South and Central Asia, and Micronesia.
- On October 11, we will welcome new members to our church along with another infant baptism.
- October 18 is Children's Sunday where we'll celebrate the children in our Sunday School and 'Iao Preschool. After service, we will bless the new Preschool mural.
- October 25 is the first of our witnessing steward presentation by Joyleen Phillip.

With gratitude, we celebrate the children and everyone who helps them grow in faith and help our community to grow. These celebrations remind us of the many ways God's love is shared across cultures and generations.

We are grateful for everyone who helps make our worship services welcoming, meaningful, and full of aloha. We give thanks to our September worship team: Warren Orikasa, Alaundra Lopez and Sonny Yoruw. October's worship team includes Jackie Murai/Cheryl Matsui, Kemberly Hadley and Shrue Sigrah. We also extend a big mahalo to our Sunday accompanists, Christophe Javon, Dale Schwarz, Ann Barclay Rovner and Warren Orikasa, Niko Nemoto and Maki Rickard.

May October be a month of joyful connection as we celebrate our children, our diverse cultures, and the many gifts that strengthen our worship community.

Update on Pastoral Search

The Search Committee continues to make encouraging progress. Three candidates have submitted résumés, and we are continuing conversations with one of them.

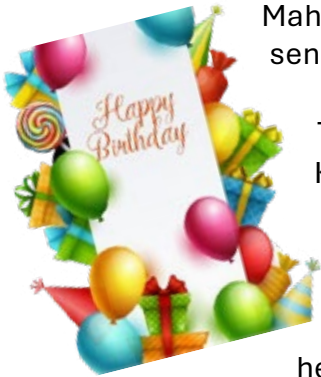

The next steps in the process are:

- Select the leading candidate.
- Present the candidate to the council for approval.
- Introduce the approved candidate to the congregation.
- Invite the candidate to deliver a sermon.
- Hold a congregational vote on whether to extend a call.

Please keep the committee in your prayers as we seek the right person to serve our congregation.

All in the 'Ohana

Mahalo to our card writers!

Mahalo to those who, hopefully, added a bit of cheer to you on your birthday by sending you a birthday card from your 'Īao Ohana.

Those people are Jan Saiki, Lynn, Krieg, Sam Takara, Suzette Robinson, Lynette Kaneshina, Carolyn Kamidoi, Bonnie Ichimura, Susan King, Dawna Krueger, Molly Murai and Jackie Murai.

You might wonder why or how these folks got to help with so simple yet so meaningful time and talent job. Easy- just check off that you would like to help write cards to visitors, help with birthday cards on your Time and Talent form (bottom item on the left hand side on your form).

Special note: If you did not receive a birthday card in 2026 from your 'Īao UCC family PLEASE send an email to the office (office@iaoucc.org) or talk to Dawna. And we apologize.

Our Condolences

Our longtime member, Yaeko Furukawa, who joined the church in 1953, passed away on September 23 at the age of 104. A gifted musician and performer, she played the shamisen, performed Japanese dance for more than 30 years, and was an accomplished pianist. She helped at Furukawa Store in Waikapū and worked as a bookkeeper at Singer Sewing. Yaeko was also a charter member of the Japanese Cultural Society and faithfully served on the Sunday School staff and Support Group. Mahalo Yaeko for your long presence with us here at 'Īao UCC. May God grant you and your family his loving peace.

A private graveside service will be held by the family.

Welcome to our New Administrative Assistant

We are pleased to welcome Doreen Mokiao as our new administrative assistant. She has served in a number of State and County departments for thirty-one years, starting off as clerk-typist and retiring as a secretary. A Moloka'i native, Doreen loves the outdoors, playing mahjong, and dancing hula. Her first day is Monday, October 5. Please stop by and say "hi".

For the Good of All

Roy Binder, President and one of the Conductors of the Maui Community Orchestra invites us to their 3rd Annual Halloween Costume Concert on Friday, October 30 at 6:00 PM in our sanctuary. Admission is free and open to everyone. There will be a keiki costume and trick-or-treat parade. Costumes are encouraged for the audience. A potluck reception will follow on the lanai. If you bring a dish to share, they will handle the rest, including the candy and treat bags.

The songs that will be featured are "The Magnificent Seven", "Pirates of the Caribbean", "The Devil Went Down to Georgia" featuring violin soloist Rona Landrigan", "Incantations", "The Pines of the Appian Way", "What's Up at the Symphony", "Bruno Mars Greatest Hits", "Led Zeppelin Reunion", "Leroy Anderson Favorites", and "Wicked". Come enjoy a great night of music.
